

due to the lack of bunker coal which was not procurable in England, as no one would load it.

We were reading in the "Fed," a talk by our old friend E. T. Kingsley. Kingsley has become some pessimist, apparently. We, on the contrary, are of the optimists. The difference is in the school of thought. Kingsley is a DETERMINIST while we belong to the CULTURISTS.

Three suits have been entered in the courts of In-
