Police and Civic Officials Strangely Reluctant to Close Games at the Savoy.

Savoy.

The Mayor knows it.

The Police Magistrate knows it.

The Chief of Police knows it.

The Chief of Police knows it.
Every man about town knows it.
The officials named know it officially, because they were so informed officially by a man, who said that he had been gambling there for many nights and was prepared to prove it in court that the place is a gaming house. He says that he got very little satisfaction; that he he got very little satisfaction; that he was asked if he would be satisfied if he got his money back; that he was told that the difficulties in the way of securing a conviction are enormous; that a week's preparations are necessary before a raid can be made. The Mayor, the Police Magistrate and the Chief of Police will recognize immediately who the person is, and they will have to admit that they have not taken the least trouble to find out if what he alleged was enguions lose their own and other people's money, and ruin their prospects in life.

The people who resort to the Savoy are soldiers, sailors, workingmen, clerks and people in positions of trust and responsibility. Names could be given if it were thought desirable. Instances could be mentioned, where young men, having temporary charge of their employers' money, have made losses and been compelled to borrow money from their associates so as to square matters up before the employers got down to business in the morning. One case, at least, can be told where the young man lost more than he was able to borrow, and the consequence was that he lost his position. Men lose money there, which must belong to somebody else, because their private resources are not equal to the drain upon their purses.

The gambling is carried on under the very thin disguise of a club. A person desiring to play may be required to sign a printed paper by which he agrees to be governed by the rules of the club. He pays nothing for the privilege of membership. In the gambling room a few papers lie about on tables, so as to give it some remote resemblance to a reading room. The principal literature consists of a well known work in fifty-two chapters, twelve of which consistent of the club.

ature consists of a well known work in fifty-two chapters, twelve of which con-sist of familiar portraits, which for con-venience sake are printed in duplicate on each page. The games are roulette, stud poker, black jack and craps. The people apparently in charge are Mac-donald and Stevenson. The door of the donald and Stevenson. The door of the gambling room is guarded by a colored man. There is a second room, where it is alleged people resort, who are averse to having the smell of labor coming between the wind and their gentility. on the very night of the day when the unief of Police enlarged upon the diffi-Cuter or Force enarged upon the dim-culty of obtaining a conviction, this man sent two others to the Savoy and they reported that the games were in full blast. Since then other men were sent to the house to obtain evidence, and came away with plenty of it, and have been ready to go into court and give their teetings.

The game of black jack has been declared by the Supreme Court of British Columbia to be such a game of chance as makes the room where it is played a gaming house under the law, and therefore renders the person in charge of the room liable to a penalty. This was decided in Petrie's case, in Vancouver, and he was fined $200. The court held that black jack was in no way essentially different from baccarat, and the later has been held in Great Britain to be ter has been held in Great Britain to be an illegal game of chance. The test seems to be that a game is illegal if the dealer or banker, or any one else, is necessarily under a greater disadvant-age or possesses a greater advantage than the other players. This definition than the other players. This definition makes all the games played in the Savoy illegal, and there is not the least sense in any one pretending that proof that they are played nightly cannot be obtained if the police want it.

A pretence is made that convictions are exceedingly difficult in such cases. This is absolute nonsense. It is an extended the process of the property of the players of the property of the players.

A Bloodless Revolution.

Local Conservatives Resent Machine Dictation and Turn Down the Old Brigade.

The anual meeting of the Liberal Con-servative Association of Victoria which took place in the Eagle Hall on Thurs-day night, was outward decorous and harmonious, but it marked the final batthe field between the opposing factions in the party. Ever since the party was di-vided some time ago, a division which really dates back to the Prior-Bodwell really dates back to the Prior-Bodweil election, a determined effort has been made by a small minority in the party to secure the control of its councils. Frustrated in the general association the recalcitrants started aa junior association, the leading spirits in which have constantly endavored to butt into the executive committee of the general as-sociation. On this occasion an attempt was made to recommend to the association a slate of office holders drawn in a caucus of certain members of the old executive and a committee of the junior association. The rank and file apparently nted this dictation for they turned down every man that had anything do with it including even Mayor Ba do with it including even Mayor Bar-nard and Mr. George Jay, men who have previously been at the head of the poll for representative positions in the party. The turning down was quietly but scientifically executed, so much so that the victims hardly knew they were hurt. A curious feature of the new executive committee is that the legal profession has been almost entirely eliminated. President—Wm. Mable.

Coal Lands.

Government Decides to Issue Licenses Under Conditions Bringing the Test of Priority Before the Courts.

As was indicated in "Progress" two weeks ago, the Government has defined weeks ago, the Government has defined its policy with reference to the coal and oil lands of Block 4593 in East Kootenay. Locators will all receive licences to prospect the land they have licences to prospect the land they have located at a fee of $100 a year per square mile. The raising of the fee from from $50 to $100 was not unexpected. It will not have the effect of much increasing the revenue derived from fees, as a number of applications will probably be withdrawn. In the uncertainty and confusion which have existed, a good deal of the land has been located more than one, sometimes upon very frivolous pretexts and sometimes in ignorance of its having been staked before. The necessity of paying a higher fee will cause locators to examine more closely into whether their land more closely into whether their land was vacant at the time they staked it and thus tend to simplify matters.

In the issue of licenses the Government has been careful to protect itself against giving any guarantee of title except to vacant land. Title will only be vested in the original locator, although licenses may be issued to sub-sequent locators of the same ground. Such licenses will give no action or right to compensation from the Govnment. Thus ends in the only way consistent

Thus ends in the only way consistent with the rights of all concerned, the most extraordinary complications ever witnessed in the agrarian history of any country. The next chapter will be the development of this second Pennsylvania as it has lately been aptly designated. This will tax the resources both of the locators and of the Provincial Government. A curious difference manifests itself at once between the Provincial and Dominion governments. The latter has already erected a custom latter has already erected a custom house on the Montana boundary at Sage Creek. That is all it has to do. As capital Creek. That is all it has to do. As capital and population flow into the country its tribute is collected automatically and without expenditure. The Provincial covernment is in an entirely different position. This year the Provincial Government will derive a revenue of possibly $5,000 directly from license fees and also a considerable revenue from the registration of companies and so forth. But the country is roadless and without any civil government whatever, without government offices, court houses, schools, jails. All such things have to be provided. Doubtless such a rich por-tion of the province will rapidly betion or the province will rapidly be-come self-supporting, but it will require a large capital expenditure upon limited sources of revenue, by the Provincial Government, whereas the Dominion Government will receive a large revenue from the beginning without any capital expenditure at all.

The licenses to be issued do not carry the surface rights. This will not affect the development of the country, but it will lead to complications in the future if speedy provision is not made for the passing of a good title in such settle-ments as may spring up. The history of ments as may spring up. The history or government townsites in this province has been deadly and disastrous, full of exasperation to settlers and without any revenue benefit to the Government. The revenue benefit to the Government. The ownership of a townsite by the Government has a tendency to sap the town spirit of the settlers who look to the Government to do everything to build up the town instead of to themselves.

_Picnic Pleasures

One of the early summer picnics that promises to be fruitful in delights is arranged for this afternoon at Shawniarranged for this atternoon at Shawni-gan, the ladies aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church being responsible for the outing. The train will leave Victoria at 1:30, and the afternoon will be given up to boating, fishing, etc., refreshments not being overlooked.

In Forma Pauperis:

The Government has asked for free The Government has asked for free water for the purpose of irrigating the grass in front of the Parliament Buildings. It is somewhat novel to find a Provincial Government asking charity from a city, and it is probable that the request was inspired by some exceedingly zealous subordinate, wishing to make a record for economy.

More Water Wanted:
Residents of Fort street complain that they are almost discouraged in their efforts to keep their gardens looking presentable, because the visits of the watering carts are so few and far between that all bloom is destroyed by the clouds of dust. Fort street, in its upper portion, is one of the show places of the city, and it ought to be better looked after in this respect. after in this respect.

—A Provincial Architect:

Mr. Sam Hooper of Winnipeg, brother of Mr. Thomas Hooper of this city, has been appointed first Provincial Architect for the province of Manitoba. His first important work will be the preparation of plans for the agricultural college to be erected in the western suburbs of Winnipeg. Mr. Hooper is gone South to visit American agricultural institutions, in order to pick up pointers on their construction.

-Dominion Day Picnic:
The annual Roman Catholic Sunday The annual Roman Catholic Sunday School picnic under the auspices of the Cathedral parish is arranged to take place as usual on the 1st of July, a committee being already at work to assure the success of the outing. This committee includes Messrs. M. Steele, president; J. Toye, secretary; J. Colbert, Sr.; Al. McDonald, H. O'Leary, F. Sehl, J. Anderton, H. G. Proctor, and M. Hart, with Mesdames Harlock, treasurer, and Sweeny, and Misses Coulin, Baines, O'Keefe, and Gray.

The trail, which is nine miles long, is in very bad condition, so that it is impossible to get a horse over it, and a man finds it very difficult. If it were put in such shape that a horse could pack over it, the trail would be much used, because people going to and from Quatsino could then, if they wished, used the steamers on the east side of the Island, instead of being compelled to wait for the bi-monthly sailings on the West Coast. taneous minor appointments, having af-forded no opportunity for the office-seekers to get busy. Henry, the veteran nurseryman to a "Progress" man the other day. "Fancy it's all snow and ice up there, some of them do. That's nonsense. As a matter of fact we are shipping immense quantities of delicate nursery stock to Dawson every spring—roses are particularly in demand, and they thrive and bloom well. We are also receiving and filling many orders from the Orient for nursery orders from the Orient for nursery stock. Every Empress takes out some large consignments."

-Keeping Up With the Times:

With the growing popularity of Victoria and suburbs as a tourist and pleasure resort, it is pleasing to note that the liverymen are keeping pace with the times. The latest livery, boarding and sale stables added to the list are those of Steve White, situate on Yates street, a few doors above Blanchard. Mr. White has just installed a number of the latest and best makes of rigs, most of them provided with rubber tires and all luxuriously upholstered. "Steve" is admittedly one of the best judges of all luxuriously upholstered. "Steve" is admittedly one of the best judges of horseflesh in the province, and keeps nothing but the best, so that all who pat-ronize him may rely upon securing the full enjoyment of a drive under most favorable conditions.

"Pirates of Penzance" By Miss Mar-rack's Amateurs An Artistic Success.

Success.

The "Pirate of Penzance," Gilbert and Sullivan's ever popular comic opera as interpreted by the amateur juveniles under the direction of Miss Marrack was a pleasant surprise to the large audience that gathered in the A. O. U. W. Hall on Tuesday evening last. The singing was good, the acting was better, and the costuming simply perfect. At the conclusion of the first chorus it became apparent that there was going to be a "good show," as one expressed it. And a good show it was, better by far than many professional companies put on the boards at high class houses. The sweetness of the young voices compensated for the lack of balanced fullness in the choruses, while the stage presence of most of them of balanced fullness in the choruses, while the stage presence of most of them was exceedingly good.

Comparisons are odious, but certainly the interpretation of the difficult character of "Ruth, the maid of all work," excelled all others both in histrionic art and clear enunciation. Miss Ethel Green is a born actress and should be seen again as the star of a troupe.

Green is a born actress and should be seen again as the star of a troupe. Miss O'Meara's clear, full yet light soprano won a well deserved encore in her first solo, "Poor Wandering Boy," and throughout the evening she charmed one and all with her sweet voice and engaging presence.

Of "General Stanley's Daughters," Miss Nellie Lombard showed a slight nervousness at first, but this was quickly overcome and she entered into the spirit of her part and sustained it with much cleverness. In contrast with her was the prefect self-possession of little Glen Switzer, whose little voice was distinct and clear, every word being distinctly enunciated. The tiny little thing Mattie Wight also did her small part splendidly.

Albert Rausch, a rather small general, who rather incongruously posed as the Albert Rausch, a rather small general, who rather incongruously posed as the father of Mebel and the rest of the troupe of girlies, sustained his part wonderfully well. Though his nervousness got the better of him once in his first song his military demeanor and rich voice soon established him in the favor of the audience. His last solo was very good though his voice showed fatigue and was decidedly forced towards the close.

Miss Ethel Scott, who undertook the difficult part of Frederic, the Pirate Apprentice, carried it out as well as girligenerally do when they assume male characters. Her singing was splendid but certainly not boyish. As the beautiful boy she was perfect, but as a boyish boy she was certainly not a success.

The part of the Pirate Chief was sustained by Bert, Aaronson to perfection. His voice has just that touch of ruggedness requisite for the part he played. His solos were well rendered and well received. His lieutenant, Samuel, alias Joe Rausch, supported his chief ably though his voice seems to be about to change.

though his voice seems to be about to change.

Of the others Mr. Jack Lombard made a decided hit as the sergeant of police in spite of the fact that he could not keep his nose on, but perhaps this was the fault of the make-up man. He and his band caused endless amusement respecially in the song "A Policeman's Life" which in response to a demand from the audience was repeated. All the pirates and daughters supplied the filling, in as eleverly as could be.

Miss Marrack certainly deserves all the praise she is getting for the able manner in which she has trained these young people, and it is to be hoped that the encouragement she has received will induce her to undertake some other of the popular operas in the autumn.

GAMBLING DOESN'T GO.

No one cares particularly whether John Doe or Richard Roe is called upon to contribute a fine or go to jail. What the public want, what the interests of morality demand, what the well-being of scores of young men renders imperative is that the games shall be stopped. Prosecute and succed, if possible, but in any event, prosecute. Drive the gambling fraternity either out of town or into some respectable calling. Will the police pretend that they cannot on almost a moment's notice name the men in charge of the gaming rooms at the Savoy and those who, either as dealers or "cappers" live off the unfortunate men who lose their money in that resort? If they do so pretend, then they should resign to a man, and the Police Commissioners should go out upon the street and select the first dozen men they meet and enroll them in the police force. The man who declares that such a resort as the Savoy cannot be closed torce. The man who declares that such a resort as the Savoy cannot be closed to gambling admits his utter incapacity for official position. There is absolutely no excuse for allowing any public gaming house, even under the guise of a club, to exist in Victoria twenty-four Club, to Garden and State in. This is the shallowest kind of a con-tention. Murder cannot be suppressed, and it is a far more revolting thing than gambling. Social evils of various kinds cannot be wholly abolished, but they can be kept in check. When they become flagrant they can be either punished or driven into hiding. Of all the evilt of existing the control of the contr come flagrant they can be either punished or driven into hiding. Of all the evils of a social nature mone is worse in its effects than gambling. So unishers all sites sentiment on this point that all over the continent of America radical steps are being taken to hold it in check. New York is practically a closed town, so far as gambling is concerned. Chicago is closed so far as pool rooms go, and sufficient influence has been brought upon the Western Union Telegraph Company to lead them to discontinue their service to pool rooms everywhere. In Chicago bookmaking on the races has come unuer the ban and is stopped. Toronto has set an example to Canadian cities in this line. Everywhere, in fact, there is a strong ambling, because it is recognized to be the most insidious of all vices. The public gamine house, or the place which is virtually public, though claiming to be private, is illegal and being both illegal and highly injurious to the public welfare, it ought not to be permitted to flourish anywhere. So far as the people, who are running such plages, are concerned, they know her are violating flourish anywhere. So far as the peo-ple, who are running such places, are concerned, they know they are violating the law and will not dare continue to do so, if they once have reason to believe that the authorities are in earnest about closing them up.

PROTECTION FOR CANADIANS.

Isn't there just a little too much made of the matter of protection from "American competition," both by the papers and the people of the Canadian dominion? At thep resent time a select committee authorized by Parliament is investigating a complaint by surveyors of the Dominion that Americans of their profession have been preferred in engagements for preliminary work on the Grand Trunk Pacific; and Division Engineer Kyle has been forced to resign because in a letter to one Hugh Allen of Pocatello, Idaho, he used this. "The policy of the company sentence: is to use Canadians or Englishmen wherever we can do so consistently, but I think that later on we will have to import some American brains in order to carry the thing out succesfully." Now Division Engineer Kyle no doubt meant what he wrote. The inference therefore is either that the Canadian supply of energetic, capable men of specialized talent is inadequate to the demand in connection with a proposition of the magnitude of the G. T. P.; or else that the American professional man—engithe American professional main—engineer, surveyor, etc.— is so much superior upon his merits to the Canadian that the latter must ask governmental protection from competition with him. If that were the case it should do the Canadian good to be brought in contact with his more alert. American brother and learn something American brother and learn something of his superior method. And if it isn't the case, why plead for protection from any competition? Canadian talent in any line of useful endeavour is welcomed to a fair field in the majority of comed to a rair held in the majority of the states—and usually comes to the top in the fight. That puts everyone upon his mettle. Companies responsible for so gigantic undertakings as burning for so gigantic undertakings as burning at transcontinental railway are usually fair judges of relative capabilities, and (given a free hand) will choose the ven a free hand) will choose the st competent workers. It is sound itcy in any national undertaking to crive insofar as possible the work that for the home workman. There involved for the home workman. is a shade of difference, however, be-tween unskilled labor and professional competition, and it doesn't make one competition, and it doesn't make one any prouder of a Canadian professional body to find it so persistent in pressing for protection from competition with others of their profession, foreigners. "Progress" is of opinion that Canadians in any of the professions can hold their own against their brothers of the States, and that brushing against them will be of benefit to the Canadians in giving or benefit to the Canadians in giving just that added alertness and vim that sometimes are needed on this side of the line to make up the progressive na-

The frequent postponement of the prosecution against T. B. Hall, while his friends are busily engaged in taking up a collection to indemnify the Government for the money which he approernment for the money which in eappriated to his own use, are creating unfavorable comment. No doubt has been raised as to the guilt of the accused, and it will not be claimed that the postponements are with a view of enabling either the Crown or the prisoner to make out a case. There can oner to make out a case. There can only be one object, namely to enable the money taken to be replaced. The public are not very much concerned about this. A matter of between four and five thousand dollars will neither make nor break the Treasury; but there is great danger that the administration of justice may be brought into conof justice may be brought into con-tempt if the idea goes abroad that there is one law for the unfortunate man, who steals a pair of boots, and another for the high-toned person who abuses a position of public trust and pockets public money. If it is the intention of the Crown to press the prosecution there is no excuse for delay. If it is intended to condone the offence, the debt may be as well forgiven, and the accused be discharged with a caution. The suggestion has been made that if the money was refunded, the accused might be discharged on suspended sen-tence. Why? might be discluded tonce. Why?

THE DUNDONALD INCIDENT.

The dismissal of Lord Dundonald from the position of major-general com-manding the militia and the events lead-ing up to it do not make pleasant read-ing. Briefly stated the facts are that ling. Briefly stated the facts are that Lord Dundonald presented a list of names for places in the militia to Hon. Sydney Fisher, who acting for the Minister of Militia, struck out one of them. At a banquet subsequently given in his honor Lord Dundonald referred to the action of the Minister in anything but complimentary terms, suggesting that it was influenced by political considerations. Hawing refused to withdraw or offer any explanation for his remarks and having declared that he would not resign, Lord Dundonald was dismissed by the Government. by the Government.

by the Government.

It is unnecessary for the purposes of this article to inquire into the wisdom of the Minister's act. It was within his jurisdiction to do as he did, and if he acted wrongly the proper place to call him to account was in Parliament.
If Lord Dundonald thought that the erasure of the name was a matter of vital importance to the militia service erasure of the name was a matter of vital importance to the militia service or to his prestige as commanding officer he had the right to remonstrate, but his remonstrance ought to have been addressed to the Governor-General in council, in which event it is safe to assume that he would not have referred to the Minister as "Mr. Sydney Fisher," and sneered at his occupation as a farmer. Neither would he have felt warranted in putting forth the insult to the whole Canadian people implied in his remark that he did not expect to be treated with courtesy, as he had lived a year at Ottawa. We make these observations because there is a disposition in some quarters to submit to any amount of "side" so long as it emanates from a lord, and to regard a piece of studied insolence as quite forgivable if addressed by a peer of the realm to a plain Canadian gentleman. Lord Dunonald, of whose valor in the field there can be no question, has been at some trouble to show that there are some instranger. stincts of a gentleman to which he is a

The prompt dismissal of Lord Dun-donald was due to the Canadian people, first necause it is necessary to demonstrate that the responsible ministry and strate that the responsible ministry and not the officers appointed by it are the rulers of the Dominion and must be treated with exactly the same deference as the government of the United Kingdom. It is hard to get this into the heads of some people from England, but it may not be so difficult hereafter. The fault does not lie wholly with the people from England by any meaens, but arises in large measure from the conduct of mean-spirited Canadians, who toady to everything English and conduct of mean-spirited Canadians, who toady to everything English and r at their own countrymen. No need feel called upon to apologize being a Canadian, but there are e clammy-souled individuals who some clammy-souled some clammy-souled individuals win incessantly do, not in words, perhaps, but in conduct, which is infinitely worse. It a distinguished Englishman visits Canada, what looks like a labored ef-fort is made to keep him from coming tort is made to keep him from coming in contact with the Canadian people. The people whom he is asked to meet are for the most part English people temporarily in Canada. So common is temporarily in Canada. So common is this practice that a distinguished gen-tleman, when asked on his return from his country how he liked the Canadian people, replied that he had not met any. How is it possible to cultivate that mu-tual understanding of each other, with-out which imperial solidarity is an idle dream, unless all Canadians always and everywhere stand erect in their man-beed and in their conduct paraphrase the noble Basque phrase by asserting that "to be born a Canadian is a patent of nobility." There is no title which ent of nobility." There is no title which king or emperor can bestow more honorable than that which citizenship in this great Dominion confers, and a Canadian, though he may be a farmer and a farmer's son, like "Mr. Sydney Fisher," is the peer of any man, though he may have a hundred quarterings on his shield.

OUR INLAND WATERS.

The inposition of a fine upon the Princess May has caused a good deal of talk, and one of the questions which has arisen is as to the right of United States arisen is as to the right of United States vessels in our inland waters. It is said that a high provincial authority has expressed in a semi-public manner the opinion that the Gulf of Georgia is the open sea and not territorial water. It will be remembered that in discussing the proceedings in the Ciallam case, this maper said that such a conclusion was the logical consequence of the position the logical consequence of the postuceral alleged to have been taken by the Attorney-General in regard to the Strait of San Juan de Fuca, so that we are not surprised to learn that the opinion above referred to has been given. At that time we urged that the question should be given attention, because the question of sovereignty in the waters between this city and Vancouver is between this city and Vancouver is something that ought not to remain in doubt. Our contention is that every foot of the way between this city and the terminus of the Canadian Pacific is through territorial water, and that no nation in the world has any rights there, except such as can be exercised in a manner subordinate to British sovereign y. In view of the rapid increase of pusiness along the Northwest Coast and of the traffic that will exist in future between the Sound cities and Alaska this subject of jurisdiction is of the utmost importance. We propound this question for the opinion of those, who hold the restricted view of the rights of Canada in those waters: Suppose a vessel flying the flag of Morocco is on her way to Vancouver, and while in the Gulf of Georgia her captain commits some act, not piratical, which would be regarded as wilful murder in a Britbe regarded as will in murder in a Brit-ish court; would the captain be tried under Canadian laws and before a Can-adian court, or would he be answerable only to the laws of Morocco? If the only to the laws of Morocco: If the Gulf of Georgia is a part of the high sea he would not be answerable for his crime here, because for an act done on the high sea the captain of a ship is an-swerable only to the laws of the coun-try whose flag his ship carries. No other country can claim jurisdiction.

In the Interest of Accuracy. For the information of the newspapers of this province, it can be stated with positiveness that John Houston, M.P.P., of Nelson, is not held for libelling John Elliott, a Nelson lawyer. John Hous-ton, M.P.P., of Nelson, is held for stating a fact.

THE BUDGET SPEECH

A Very Remarkable Condition of Things Set Forth by the Minister of Finance.

Politics run so high in Canada that no one accepts at their face the tele-graphic summaries sent to the party papers, and the Budget Speech of the Finance Minister is longer than most people care to read, even if the daily papers had printed it, which they did not. The speech is nevertheless well worth reading, and as it is impossible for "Progress" to reproduce it, the next for "Progress" to reproduce it, the next best thing to do is to give a summary of its principal points.

The estimated revenue for the pres-ent year, that is for the year ending June 30th, is $71,020,802, and the esti-mated expenditure on account of the Consolidated Fund is $54,000,000, which will leave a surplus of over $10,000,000, which is by far the largest in the history which is by far the largest in the history which is by far the largest in the history of Canada. A little explanation may be useful at this point. The expenditures of Canada are divided under two heads, those on account of the Consolidated Fund, which include as a rule those of a temporary nature, and the others on Capital Account, which include those that are for permanent improvements. The Capital Account expenditures this area will be about $11.500000 so that year will be about $11,500,000, so that the actual surplus to be employed in the reduction of the public debt will be $7,500,000. This will make the debt $7,500,000. $7,500,000. This will make the depit smoothing like $1,000,000 less than it was when the Liberals took office, and this notwithstanding the very large outthis notwithstanding the very large out-lays that have been made in permanent public works during the last seven years. It makes no difference what a man's politics may be, he cannot help being gratified by such a showing as this, because it demonstrates that the country is in an exceedingly prosperous condition. The per capita indebtedness of the Dominion has necesarily decreased very considerably, because the popu-lation has grown while the debt has not In 1896 the per capita debt was $50.

Mr. Fielding was able to cite statistics to show that the effect of the surtax on imports fron Germany, imposed in retaliation for the excessive duties imposed by Germany upon imports from Canada, had had the effect of reducing our imports from Germany by 38 per cent. Until this surtax was imposed very large quantities of sugar were imported into Canada from Germany, but since its imposition not a many, but since its imposition not a pound has been brought into the coun-try from Germany and the trade has gone to the British West Indies, a con-

He claims that the safest attitude for Canada to take in the present stage of the discussion is to adhere to the preferential system, until adhere to the preferential system, until public opinion in the United Kingdom and throughout the Empire has crystallized into a definite policy. He closed his observations on this point by saying: "Therefore we say to the English people that the people of Canada are practically a unit in the support of the principle of preferential trade."

The minimum tariff would be of general application to all foreign countries, which do notp lace Canadian trade upon some exceptional disadvantage.

A special provision is to be made to prevent the "dumping" of goods upon the Canadian market. If an article is the Canadian market. If an article is sold in Canada at a lower price than in the country where it is produced a special duty will be imposed. It is hoped that this will have a more beneficial effect than would be accomplished by increasing the tariff. He promised that the Government will make careful inquiry into the whole question of the tariff in order to see in what respects the business intereste of the respects the business interests of the country call for changes.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

General business in Victoria seems to be quiet at present, although there is a great deal of building and other work in progress. Some anxiety is felt as to the date when work will be begun on the C. P. R. hotel, and there is not the least doubt that when the big corporation gets down to business there will be a general revival in all lines. During the last month or two considerable farm property has changed hands and inquiries for such are becoming more numer ous from week to week. The movemen in city real estate is not particularly marked. Very little is said on the steets about the Grand Trunk Pacific but about the Grand Trunk Pacific, but there is in every mind a very anxious desire to know how soon that company will get down to work. Some people give the fact of the probable early be-ginning of work as a reason for not embarking in any new enterprises, pre-ferring to hold their money until the terminus of the new line has been decided upon. Mining conditions on the Island are steadily, if slowly, improving and the amount of business resulting and the amount of business resulting from what is being done in the metal-liferous mines and prospets is larger than might at first sight be supposed. On Thursday night, for example, eight men left for Quatsino Sound by way of the East Coast, and their object was to examine mining responsible. examine mining proporties. It is pos-sible that work on a large scale may shortly be inaugurated there, as one of the persons referred to is the representative of the largest financial combination engaged in mining in America.

ASCENDED MOUNT STEPHEN.

Word has been received by the C. P. R. that the first important ascent of the season has been made in the Rockies.
Mr. J. D. Patterson, of Woodstock, Ont., Mr. J. D. Patterson, of Woodstock, Ont., ascended Mount Stephen on June 1st Mt. Stephen is at Field, and is over 10,000 feet high from the sea level, while it actually rises over 6,500 feet above the valley. The feat is an extraordinary one, not only because Mount Stepnen presents difficulties at all times to the Alpinist, but because so early in the year the sun has not yet had time to clear away the ice and snow of winter, gone to the British West Indies, a condition of things that will be eminently satisfactory to every one except the German producers.

The attitude taken by Mr. Fielding towards the Chamberlain propagandam in the speaks for the Government of the Dominion. He looks very favorably upon it, because he claims that Mr. Chamberlain's plan is only an extension of the idea involved in the British preference extended by Canada, by New Zealand

The announcement has just been made semi-authoritatively, that Earl Grey will succeed Lord Minto as Governor-Gen-eral of the Dominion of Canada, and naturally there is much speculation as to the personality of the new viceroy. Albert Henry George Grey, fourth earl (title created 1306) was born in 1851, and succeeded to the title in 1894. He graduated first class in senior law and graduated first class in semor law and history, from 1 ripos, Cambridge, in 1874. The Victoria Gardens.

How This Favored City Utilizes the Sunshine to a Profit.

A "Progress" man visited a number of the leading florists and gardeners of Victoria for the purpose of learning to what extent the large amount of sunshine with which we are blessed was being utilized commercially. He found the generaly opinion to be that this is the only point on the West Coast where flowers can be successfully produced through the winter and early spring months. One of the large firms, "The Hopkins Carnation Company," has just

R. H. JOHNSTON, whose father came to Victoria in 1861, is a native son. The business was started in 1868 as Mitchell & Johnston. They are seeds-men and nurserymen though as a by-product they handle flowers. One of their nurseries is at St. Charles street, product they analoue howers. One of their nurseries is at St. Charles street, and the other, a new one, in the vicinity of Oak Bay. Having been so long in business the firm has connections with a number of European seed growers, from whom they buy direct, none of their business being done on commission, as is so often the case. Most of the business is done in Victoria and the country districts throughout the province. Owing to the United States tariff they cannot compete for the American trade in nursery stock or seeds. Mr. Johnston is enthusiastic over the prospects of the future business of Victoria, especially in flowers. He say we have the two things needful: a splendid soil and plenty of sunshine.

One of the largest flower and vege-table raisers in and around Victoria is MR, H. J. DUNN, of Glenford Avenue, off the Carey Road. Nearly three years ago Mr. Dunn took over the business from the Hopkins Brothers and since that time he has steadily increased the amount of glass and with it the output of the business. Doing only a local wholesale trade and specializing along a few lines he is able to raise these at a minimum cost, thus making the business pay when others would lose money.
"My business," said Mr. Dunn, "is confined almost exclusively to lettuce, confined almost exclusively to lettuce, tomatoes, cucumbers, carnations, and violets and chrysanthemums. The lettuce business is very much overdone, the price this year being only half that obtainable a year or two ago. In fact the same may be said of the whole business. There is too much glass for the market. Of course we export, but even Seattle and Vancouver are overdone. I

Mr. Wallace supplies the flowers that are so much admired in the Windsor Grocery, where some of their retail business is conducted:

JAY & CO. is the oldest seed firm in Victoria, having started business here in '62. They have three acres of land on Cook street where they raise flowers and nursery stock. Their specialty is in seeds—flower, vegetable and agricultural. The retail store on Broad street is run in connection with the gardens as a convenience to customers.

changed hands, therefore nothing is said of them. Several small firms have been missed through lack of time, and one proprietor was too busy when called upon to talk.

"Commercial growers is the English name for this business," said Mr. A. J. Woodward, of Charles street. "We grow here every kind of flower used for decorative purposes as well as large quantities of lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers, all under glass. I have between two and three acres of glass altogether. Most of my business is wholesale though I have a shop in town that does a large retail trade. Victorians do not use to per cent. of the flowers and vegetables I produce. I send them all over the country as far as Dawson and the North West Territories. My principal business is with Puget Sound cities and Vancouver. You see, we have the sunshine here in the winter. For this reason, there is no other place on the Coast that would be as suitable for our business as this. I believe that Kamloops would give as good results, but we should be farther from our market there and it would cost more for fuel on account of the cold winters.

"I do not consider this soil any better than a sandy loan would be. It needs a large amount of manure and plenty of water. This is the largest establishment of the kind in the province and I think there are none larger anywhere on the Coast. In these greenhouses are over three miles of steampipe used in heating."

Passing through the houses the reporters saw some devoted to tomatoes and others again to flowers and ferns. Long cucumbers were hancing from the overs.

ter saw some devoted to tomatoes and others again to flowers and ferns. Long cucumbers were hanging from the great trailing vines and ripe tomatoes made one forget it was only May. "These tomatoes," said Mr. Woodward, "were planted after the lettuce was taken off. We often get several crops in the course of a year. "One of our difficulties," said he, "is the lebec question. I get a good man others again to flowers and ferns. Long the labor question. I get a good man and train him to do the work as I want it. Then he gets uneasy and leaves me and I have to begin again. It takes a long time to learn our methods, so you can see what a difficulty this is."

They have neither of these on Puget Sound or at Vancouver. "Sunshine," says Mr. Johnston, "is the one thing that we can't manufacture and that we must have in the growing of flowers, especially winter flowers.

especially winter flowers.

G. E. WILKERSON, whose gardens and greenhouses are on Yates street, is a gardener as well as a florist. He finds that he can combine the business with advantage. Though he has been in business but six years he finds he has plenty to do, in fact his business has doubled almost every year since starting. He sends a good many chrysanthenums to Seattle in the autumn, but his specialty is dahlias, the tubers of which he sends all over the continent. He finds the Tourist Association a great aid to him in this business and in return for that aid he keeps the rooms on Fort street well supplied with these flowers. He says that, so far, this is the best season he has had.

THE JUBILEE GREENHOUSES, so-called because they were opened in the last jubile year, are operated by W. and L. Russell. These gentlemen do a general retail florist business, raisdo a general retail torist obtsieses, rais-ing cut flowers and plants for the local market. Besides this they handle a good many bulbs. Last year they im-ported nearly three tons of the choicest kinds. Seeds, too, in a small way, they sell in connection with their other busisell in connection with their other busi-ness. They do not specialize, but cater to the general demand, neither do they do gardening for outsiders. Being cen-trally located they are able to command a large retail trade without the expense of keeping a shop in the business part. Their twelve thousand feet of glass is all used to great advantage, producing a continuous supply of flowers all the year round.

MR. J. T. HIGGINS, of Fort street, MR. J. T. HIGGINS, of Fort street, is one of the old timers, having been in the business for twenty-two years. The firms of Jay and Johnston were the only ones here when Mr. Higgins started. "I think it is hardly fair to the fruit raiser for Mr. Cunningham, the fruit inspector to report big crops in order that the buyers may hold back until the market is glutted. They then get the berries at almost their own price. We should be much better without an inspector than that he should bear the market.

"Yes," said he," "but they are not a dependable crop. No one can tell for a certainty when there will be any. They often come out all at once and then the next week there are none. There is money in them, but they are risky."

Baseball League Brings Victoria Into the Big Circle.—First Match To-Day.

The extremity of lacrosse is evidently the opportunity of baseball. While interest in the Canadian game promises to go down to a very low mark this season, in consequence of New Westminster's withdrawal from the provincial association, baseball will boom imster's withdrawal rrom the provincial association, baseball will boom immensely as the result of the formation of a first grade league in which Victoria has a place. The new league is semi-professional, and was brought into being at a meeting in Everett last week at which this city was represented by Mr. H. A. Goward. The Puget week at which this city was represented by Mr. H. A. Goward. The Puget Sound Baseball League is the official title of the new organization, and its first game is set for to-day, in this city, between Seattle and Victoria, the home time being drawn in the following batting order: McManus, c.; Blackburn, p.; Potts, I b.; Schwengers, 2 b.; Erle, s.s.; Rithet, 3 b.; McConnell, I.f.; Burnes, c.f.; and Goward, r.f.

Mr. Goward reports that the proceedings in connection with the formation of the league were marked by an enthusiasm which augurs well for the success of the venture. Entries were received from five clubs, more than sufficient to make the contest for the pennant interesting. They are Bellingham, Everett, Sedro Wolley, Seattle (Manuel Lopez) and Victoria. After the introduction of the delegates, the first question considered was whether the conditions in each the delegates, the first question consid-ered was whether the conditions in each of the cities represented would warrant the organization of a league. It was pointed out that the travelling expenses in the amalgamation proposed would be comparatively small. A league match, it was generally agreed, would be a much better attraction than an ordin-ary exhibition game. All circumstances much better attraction than an ordin-ary exhibition game. All circumstances taken into consideration, it was the unanimous opinion that the formation of the suggested league would be in the interests of baseball throughout the Northwest. Business in connection with the organization was then taken up. One of the most important matters discussed was the guarantee a team should rewas the guarantee a team should receive when playing away from home. It took some time to satisfactorily settle this matter. Finally, however, the full expense of eleven men, with the option of 50 per cent. of the gate receipts, was agreed upon. This decision found favor with all present. It makes it necessary for the home club to make up any deficiency should the gate go below about $50, but, as was remarked, when a game cannot draw to that extent it is that to give un playing baseball. A constitution cannot draw to that extent it is that to give up playing baseball. A constitution was then adopted calling for the election of a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, as well as the formation of a board of managers to consist of the officers named and the duly accredited manager of each of the competing teams. It was also provided that the annual election of officers should be held on the first Tuesday of June each year; that the board of directors of the league; that the board of directors of the league; the control and direction of the league; that the initiation fee should be $10 for each club, and the annual dues after the first year $10, and that on or before June 14th each club should remit to the treasurer a cash guarantee of $25 to be held by the league as a guarantee that such club will faithfully keep and perform all its engagements as required by the constitution, the by-laws and the by the constitution, the by-laws and the schedule of games, each guarantee to be forfeited by the club failing in its en-gagements to the club disappointed thereby. This was followed by the draft-ing of a number of rules and regulations, the most important of which follows: the most important of which follows: "No games shall be played by any of the clubs composing this league which con-flict with the regular scheduled games. Revolving will not be permitted. Clubs guilty of negotiating with players al-ready signed with other clubs of this league shall be subject to explusion. Players may be loaned from one club to another by consent of the managers of Players may be loaned from one club to another by consent of the managers of such clubs. If any player is released the club releasing him shall report such fact to the president and also whether there is anything against his character to prevent his re-engagement." Officers were then elected as follows: President. r. Dresen, of Everett; vice-president, L. Cole, of Bellingham; secretary, S. S. L. Cole, of Bellingnam; secretary, S. Newman; treasurer, Dresen. A complete schedule for the season was not drafted, it being found impossible to make satisfactory dates at such short notice. The following games were, however, deaded worn.

An agitation has been initiated here which deserves the support of all good sportsmen and true Victorians. It has for its object the sending of the J. B. A. A. four to Henley, where Winnipeg's representatives have now been despatchrepresentatives have now been despatched. The Henley trip would encourage the Bays immensely; it would be a great big advertisement for the city, and there is every reason to believe that the men from the West would stand an excellent chance of establishing themselves as world's champions. Winnipeg has latterly been doing some tall talking about the record performances of its crew, their mark of 8 minutes and 10 seconds being classed an American record. So it would be but for the fact that the J. being classed an American record. So it would be but for the fact that the J. B. A. A. "Big Four" at Nelson in 1902 entirely eclipsed it. Rowing on Kootenay, lake the Bay's four, consisting of W. W. Wilson (stroke), C. B. Kennedy (3), H. Briggs (2), and L. A. Gill (bow), won the junior mile and a half race in 7 minutes and 59 seconds. The senior race, over the consecutive to the control of the senior race. nail race in 7 minutes and 59 seconds. The senior race, over the same course was captured the next day in 7 minutes and 57 seconds. These times are in the N. P. A. A. O. records, and cannot be disputed. The present Winnipeg crew for Henley is well known to the J. B. A. A. boys. Selby Henderson (No. 2),

A. A. Doys. Selby Henderson (No. 2) was formerly a member of the local club. The four is a very fast one, but the men are a little lighter than the "Big Four." The weights are as follows:

J. B. A. A.—W. W. Wilson (stroke), 178 pounds; C. B. Kennedy (No. 3), 185; F. Dillabough (No. 2) 170; W. H. Lesse (how) 178 Jesse (bow), 168.

Jesse (bow), 168.
Winnipeg. — Hunter (stroke), 192 pounds; Kent (No 3), 180; S. Henderson (No. 2), 168; Riley (bow), 167.

J. B. A. A. crews are now getting into shape for the N. P. A. A. O. regatta next month at Portland. Coach ("Sullivan is keeping a careful eye on the progress of the boys, and is confident that they will establish for themselves a record equally as good as that of last summer. It is the intention of the James Bay Athletic Association to be represented in every event of the regatta. All crews, with the exception of the jumior sculls, have been selected. They are as follows:

Senior Four—W. W. Wilson, stroke;

Senior Four—W. W. Wilson, stroke; C. B. Kennedy, 3; F. Dillabough, 2; W. H. Jesse, bow.

Junior Four-P. Andrews, stroke; J. Finlaison, 3; T. Brown, 2; J. Donaldson, bow.

Senior Pairs-D. O'Sullivan, stroke D. Desbrisay, bow.

Junior Pairs-C. Kennedy, stroke; W. H. Jesse, bow.

Senior Sculls-D. Desbrisay.

Senior Sculls—D. Desbrisay.

Those acquainted with the oarsmen mentioned will agree that it would have been hard to make a better selection. All have been training faithfully and are confident of their ability to acquit themselves in such a way as to reflect credit upon the institution to which they belong.

It has not been definitely decided yet It has not been definitely decided yet who will enter the junior sculls for the Bays. The name of W. W. Wilson has been suggested. Mr. Wilson, however, does not think that he should undertake this besides stroking the senior four. There are a number willing to enter the lists on behalf of the club, and those interested may rest assured that a worthy representative will be found to scull the junior single shell.

Preparations are also being made for scull the junior single shell.

Preparations are also being made for the regatta by Vancouver, Nelson and Portland. According to the Province, the Terminal City four is stronger this summer than ever before. They have a stroke that is to carry them to victory with ease. The same paper also criticizes the local oarsmen's style. It says they "lie too far back on their care and cizes the local oarsmen's style. It says they "lie too far back on their oars and the recovery is killing," and owing to like ver." One of the most prominent of the local "Big Four" referring to this paragraph predicted that the pace of the J. B. A. A. crew would probably be found "killing" to the Vancouver aggregation. Nelson has a first-class four, and they are out for championship honors. It is this aggregation from the in-It is this aggregation from the interior that Victoria must watch, as all oarsmen agree that they will be more formidable than any of the Coast crews.

"Postmaster Wadds received from Victoria last week for A. R. McQuarrie, an English setter with a perigree a yard an English setter with a perigree a yard long." The above clipping from the Rossland Evening World refers to an English setter bitch, Lady Maude by Duke and ex-champion Lady Howard, shipped to Rossland last week by Mr. Thos. Plimley. She was sold at a good figure for breeding purposes and is in whelp to T. P. McConnell's latest importation. whelp to T. P. McConnell's latest importation. Her color is lemon and white, a good field dog and of a fine appearance. Mr. Plimley has been breeding English setters in Victoria for years and has now several good bitches expecting litters in about a month. A large number of his dogs have won prizes in the local and outside shows, one year carrying everything before them.

Very few apparently are aware of it, but it is a fact none the less that Swan lake is this season giving up some magnificent trout as the rewards of careful fishing. Heretofore there has been an impression that this lake was too deep for the approval of the trout. Bait fishing, however, brings from it some splendid specimens. One of these —a fish than which no firmer or better conditioned could be asked—was got by Mr. Frank Baines a few days ago. It weighed 2 lbs. 9 oz., and it was but one of a trio of big fellows. Very few apparently are aware of it.

Manager Harrison of the Driard is proving himself one of the staunchest and most cordial friends of the Ameri-can game on this side of the line. He can game on tins side of the line. He has recently made the proposal to present a magnificent provincial champion-ship trophy—to cost upwards of $foo—if an organization of the ball teams can be brought about, and Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Nanaimo arrange a series of league games. The proposal strikes the local fans very favorably—as it certainly should—and efforts will be made to bring about the forts will be had proposed league.

With no qualification of the belief that New Westminster has acted in an unsportsmanlike manner in withdrawing unsportsmanlike manner in withdrawing from the lacrosse association, "Progress" cannot but fully admit their right to a determining match for the 1093 championship, after Vancouver's default of the decider on that drawn game qualified Westminster as a championship competitor.

They apparently play strenuous ball up in the Kootenays. In a recent match between Ymir and Salmo, R. C. Sheedy, a Ymir player, was "treacherously struck on the head by a Salmo player and knocked into unconsciousness, which he recovered three hours later in the hospital where he is now confined. For some time it was feared that his spine was affected, but fortunately this proves not to be the case, and he will recover."

The provincial lacrosse association has adopted a rule to determine championship honors by the percentage system, every win counting 100, every draw 50, and every loss nil. Had the constitution been amended in this regard before last season, there would be no squabble over the pennant ownershipit would have simply gone to Vancouver.

New Westminster having remained obdurate, a series of lacrosse matches for the season between Vancouver and Victoria has been drawn up. The bobtailed race for the pennant will not be particularly interesting, but it is the best that can be done.

The Grand Forks summer meeting is set for August 25th, 26th, and 27th. The principal event of course will be the Grand Forks Derby, seven-eighths of a mile, for the Seagram cup and $500

The B. C. Ball Club appears to have closed its eventful life with but "one consecutive appearance." Emmerson has gone to Salem, Ore, at a salary of $100 per and board. The others are reincarnated amateurs.
