Dear sir:- Knowing that you are interested in our organization, and feeling that you have been of much benefit to it in Washington, and that your ideas are in touch with ours, I write you for the purpose of having you write, at your earliest convenience, an article for me, upon the social and economic question, suitable to ^{be} printed in my report. It is not necessary for you to be scrupulous about having it conservative, because I believe the conditions are of such a character as require radical recommendations and suggestions on the part of the part of myself to the convention, and your judgment upon this proposition will be perfectly satisfactory to me. I hope that you will give this proposition some consideration and attention, when convenient for you. I will leave here about the 5th of May, to go to Denver, to attend the convention. The convention will convene on the 14th of May, in Denver, and of course, I desire to close my report somewhere about the neighborhood of the 7th of May, so that any time prior to that time will be sufficient and ample time for your article to be in my hands.

Wishing you success and your party, I remain,

Yours in union,

Daniel McDonald
