THE PROVINCIAL HOUSE ONCE MORE IN SESSION

Hawthornthwaite and McInnes Sat During Opening Ceremony--Work Planned by Socialist Members--The New Member for Grand Forks.

The Legislature opened on Thursday, March 14th, with the usual capitalistic display of wealth and pomp. Dignitaries in the hall, first month at the opening ceremony, U. B. C.

so that they were fast becoming a toy for the rich man. If the provincial police could not hunt down the criminals without the assistance of these men, he asked the government to re-organize the force so that it could, and not introduce this pernicious system which struck at the roots of that British justice of which they heard so much.

Government and Salvation Army. One thing to be noticed in British Columbia lately was the upward tendency of everything. In consequence of high prices there was more than normal activity. The advance in copper from 12 cents to 20 cents had caused the development of mines which had formerly been abandoned.

Mr. Williams will again introduce a bill to secure fortnightly instead of monthly payment of wages to workingmen.

Parker Williams' Speech. Following is the speech delivered by Mr. Parker Williams in the House on Tuesday in reply to a speech made by McInnes and Oliver from the Conservative and Liberal benches respectively.

Notwithstanding the shortage of labor, he could tell them that there were good miners in Ladysmith and Nanaimo who could not get their work.

Detectives and Other Things. The debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was continued on Tuesday by Mr. Parker Williams, who said he supposed that on such an occasion congratulations were sent to the Premier.

They raised a great cry about the poor farmer, and how hard it was for him to get labor. If the government was so anxious to help the farmer, it was solicited that they could find no evidence of it in the proposed Assessment Act.

The Legislature of the province had put the clergyman in quarantine as he were by refusing to allow him to give the eucharist in his church.

could be anything in that argument. carried out by the government and it was an absolute failure. If they took the census of Canada for 1890 and compared them they would find that the population had decreased by some 10,000 or 15,000 if the number of immigrants arriving in the country were counted out.

The English press has lately been teeming with reports as to the vile practices of the Belgian government in the Congo. Of course, to the country, the sympathies of the British bourgeois have been excited and have found expression in the Congo Reform Association.

The Belgian ruling class, realizing their inability to cope successfully with the more powerful British pirates, have approached Uncle Sam with a view to securing his co-operation. Uncle, however, has not been so generous as his humanitarian (?) ideas to possess him for an instant when dealing with his victims.

QUERIES AND ANSWERS RELATING TO TACTICS

Many Points Covered and Objections Answered That Have a Direct Bearing Upon Correct Political Action By the Working Class.

The following questions have been put to us by a B. C. comrade with the request that we reply through the Clarion columns. We take pleasure in so doing:

Colorado and Idaho, and in fact everywhere, our only regret is that it will be physically impossible to fully compensate the capitalist class and their villainous tools.

1. Should Socialists form a permanent alliance with any capitalist party? Not under any circumstances where the capitalist class is dominant. The Socialist movement being the expression of the proletarian side of the class struggle, no Socialist could do so, without betraying the interests of the proletariat, and thereby forfeit his right to assume the name of Socialist.

2. What was the question fought out by Bebel and Jaures at the last meeting of the International? How did the contest result? We are not in possession of sufficient information as to proceedings of International to answer. Bebel tends to the Revolutionary position and Jaures to what is called Opportunism or Revision.

NOT ALL DEAD YET.

The employees of the Southern railway are to contribute one per cent of their earnings for this month for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of a fellow by the name of Spencer who was killed in an accident on that road on last Thanksgiving Day. This Spencer was president of the road. It is claimed this move for the erection of a monument to the old cuss's memory originated with the employees themselves. We know enough about the way these schemes are usually worked to recognize a fishy odor about such claim. At any rate, a lot of exploited wage-slaves must have a wholesome amount of self-respect if they would contribute even a farthing for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of any one of the tribe that lives by sucking their blood. It might be a wise precautionary measure to erect a stone pile on this Spencer person's grave as a safeguard against his possible resurrection and resumption of activity in the laboring process. But even this would not require an outlay of one per cent of a month's earnings of 40,000 insufferable idiots. Half a dozen loads of rock at about a dollar and six bits a load would fill the bill nicely. But then the fools are not all dead yet, more's the pity.

AND NOW FOR ACTION.

More than a year has passed since Charles Moyer, William D. Haywood and George Pettibone, of the Western Federation of Miners, were seized by official thugs of the ruling class, acting under orders of Governor Gooding of Idaho and his fellow-contemptible, the Governor of Colorado, and incarcerated in an Idaho bastille. The story of their cowardly and ruffian-like seizure and kidnapping is familiar to millions of American citizens. No event of recent times has attracted more widespread attention and discussion than this affair. No more brutal, shameless and dastardly assault has been made upon the working-class of the United States by its vile rulers than the seizure and incarceration of these men. It may safely be taken as an omen of that which the workers may expect to henceforth receive at the hands of the class that holds political and economic mastery over them, unless they consent to remain meek, obedient and submissive slaves. Fortunately for the human race, the workers are not remaining silent and submissive in the face of the atrocities perpetrated upon them. They are not inclined to meekly accept the brutalities heaped upon the working class by the capitalists and their miserable hirelings. They are manifesting a disposition to resent such brutalities, and for every case resisted two in return. The number of protest meetings being held in reference to this Colorado-Idaho affair is continually increasing, in spite of the fact that over a year has elapsed since the arrest of the imprisoned men, and no opportunity of trial has been afforded them. This flagrant violation of the alleged traditional rights of the American citizen has undoubtedly proven a potent factor in awakening the workers to the significance of the move against Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone. As this significance dawns upon them they begin to develop the spirit of men and a determination to resist the brutalities of their rulers. The more speedily this spirit and determination develop, the sooner will mankind be delivered from the present nightmare of capitalist pillage and rapine.

"Soft words butter no parsnips." The fool in his folly refuses to recognize the class war that must be fought to a finish between the slaves and their masters. Simple to a degree is he who fancies that the capitalist class will surrender its privilege and power in response to the altruistic appeals of sentimentalists and other white-livered nincompoops. He is blind indeed who refuses to see that the present ruling class is each day more plainly manifesting its determination to maintain its position at whatever cost in blood, provided this blood can be drawn from the veins of the slave class. Like all previous ruling classes, it is generous to a fault in shedding blood to maintain its power, provided slaves and hirelings furnish the blood.

If blood is to be shed, and it is inevitable if enslaved labor is to break its chains, let the workers see to it that the ruling class furnishes its share. Every workman in the United States should provide himself with arms against the day of need. Upon an armed working class it would be impossible to perpetrate the atrocities that may be practised with impunity upon an unarmed one. It is time the proletariat awakened to the task in hand, and that it is awakening there is ample proof upon every side.

The following from a speech by G. Rolfe to the miners of Pittsburg, Kansas, affords an indication of the trend of thought among an increasing number of workmen. Ever long more radical utterances will be heard throughout the land: "The time has come for rebellion. The courts have refused us a fair hearing; the right of petition has been refused us; and we must now prepare to use the force of arms. The Dred-Scott decision was followed by the Civil War. The Moyer-Haywood-Pettibone decision will be followed by a rebellion of the working class. Arm yourselves, keep a steady nerve, and get something to kill squirrels with, for the woods are full of squirrels and there is going to be a killing." If the workers be wise they will stop at no rebellion. Their action will be so sweepingly revolutionary as to wipe capitalism and its accursed wage-slavery off the map.

The day of protest, petition and supplication has nearly passed. The day of action is at hand. Be wise in time; go not into battle with empty hands.

FUSION REPUDIATED.

Walter Thomas Mills, commonly dubbed the "Little Giant" by hero-worshipping females of both sexes, has shed the effulgence of his oratory upon the British Columbian heathen upon divers occasions during recent months. However, he came across the line once too often and in an unguarded moment succumbed to the constitutional weakness, which afflicts the free lance in Socialist propaganda, of catering to the prejudices of those he addresses in order to not unduly frighten the shekels from the vicinity of his purse. An attack of this malady usually proves fatal in British Columbia. It is goodly indeed so in the case of Walter Thomas.

The oratorical gem came to Victoria during the latter part of December last to address a meeting. It so happened that a move was on foot there at the time to effect some sort of a fusion arrangement between the "Labor Party," the "Moderate Socialists," and the revolutionary bunch, the purpose being to frame up a joint ticket to be offered to the voters for their support at the election on Feb. 8. As the Victoria electoral district was entitled to four members of the provincial house, two candidates were to be given to the "Labor Party," one to the "Moderates," and one to the revolutionists. It was a nice little scheme and Walter Thomas took kindly to the job of assisting in it the launching. With those well known practical powers that have enabled him to rout the enemy upon many a windy battlefield, he pled the cause of fusion and urged the support of the multi-colored political abortion that was to be set up. At the time of Walter Thomas' stunt, no Local of the S. P. of Canada, was in existence at Victoria. The so-called revolutionary element took out a charter shortly after. To what extent, if any, this body was implicated in the fusion scheme we do not know. Be that as it may, however, the advocacy of fusion by Walter Thomas soon became noised about, and trouble began to brew for his corporate benefit.

It seems he has a couple of ten lectures calculated to transform the most stupid supporter of capitalism into a real lovely Socialist, provided these Socialist-makers are administered at the rate of one per month. The time intervening between one dose and the next gives the victim a suitable opportunity for digesting and assimilating the Socialist-making pill which he has just received. Local of the S. P. of C. for delivering his monthly dose to the economic heathen of Vancouver, the story of his advocacy of fusion in Victoria became common property. Local Vancouver refused to stand sponsor for any further. His meetings. If there is anything the Socialist workmen of Vancouver cannot stomach it is fusion and compromise. A motion was carried at a regular business meeting of the Local to "publicly disavow all connection with Walter Thomas Mills' meetings." The diminutive giant's admirers and worshippers rallied to his rescue and at each succeeding meeting attempted to remove the ban, but it was no go. At the meeting on Monday evening last the entire matter was given a six-months' quietus upon it for a while.

Of course a few worshippers and admirers of the great "Socialist-maker" are much disgruntled over the dastardly repudiation of the famous man by the revolutionary element in Local Vancouver. One suspension from the Local has occurred in consequence of the affair, and one resignation has been tendered. Whether more are to follow remains to be seen.

These free lancers of the Mills type are merely nuisances to the proletarian movement. Speaking as the servant of no organization, their solicitude for revenue is more than apt to clothe their efforts with a garb calculated to satisfy the prejudices of their hearers, rather than one intended to set forth the facts upon which the Socialist movement bases its action. In fact, all such occupy a position that makes it possible that the suspicion be entertained that they are merely adventurers in quest of notoriety, and the easiest possible way to make a living with the limited talents at their command. Their altogether too many threadbare professions, pulpitless parsons and other bun intellectuals hanging on to the skirts of the Socialist movement for a living now. The sooner they are shaken off the better. It requires something more than a large mouth and a diarrhoea of words to plant the seeds of revolution in the minds of the workers. Whatever knowledge the workers obtain of the present system, the necessity for its overthrow and how to go about the job, they will have to get for themselves. Neither a Walter Thomas Mills or any other garrulous wind-bag who talks for a living can be expected to bring it to them. To acquire it demands no small measure of persistent application upon the part of he who seeks it. Oratory never yet demolished an error or enshrined a truth. Platform gymnastics and resonant loquacity never yet established a fact of any value to humankind. The race has had altogether too much of that sort of thing for its own good. It is time to cut it out. If for no other reason the cutting out of Walter Thomas Mills is to be commended, it is to be hoped the same rule will be applied to all other self-constituted saviours who are "sacrificing" themselves upon humanity's altar, at least in their minds.

PAARDEBURG DAY WAS DULY CELEBRATED.

Paardeburg Day was duly celebrated last week by such of the South African veterans as were not unavoidably detained by their respective governments. Having been hanged, or committed suicide—causes which have considerably thinned out the ranks in the interval—many of the veterans who were present would be an eye-witness as to the demoralizing effect of organized murder and plunder in the interests of the plutocracy and for the glory of the Emperor. It is to be hoped that the papers took occasion to ask inconvenient questions as to the disposal of sundry funds raised by subscription during the heat of the movement and the application of the same to the purposes for which they were collected. It seems there is a Patriotic Fund of some $100,000 unexpended and lying around now in Montreal, and there is also a South African Memorial Fund—both now in Victoria's hands. It is to be hoped that a woman's memorial fund started in the city was asked to give something. What has become of all the quarters and dimes collected by the patriotic and public-spirited ladies who were lighted on their way to the "conquered" Boers were electing General Botha with a Dutch majority of representatives in the Transvaal—and the same powers position as is occupied by the English-speaking people of Quebec. No wonder there is a falling off of interest in the S. A. Memorial fund. Why, the British son of a Yankee was boasting of his ancestor at Bunker Hill, whereupon a Britisher remarked that he really did see what the Americans had to blow for. Why, the British son of a Yankee at Bunker Hill; drove you Yanks off at the point of the bayonet. "You may be right, stranger," replied the Yankee, "but who's got it now?"

PHILLIPS THOMPSON.

By the way, what is a Revolutionary Socialist, anyway? Anything like a Russian terrorist, for example?—The "With a similar situation as that which at present confronts the Russian proletariat, we should hope and expect to see a Revolutionary Socialist do equally well.

EMIGRANTS FOR CANADA

Thirteen hundred emigrants sailed for Canada last week from England. On Wednesday the Thursday...

On the one hand, because we say that Socialism springs from the facts, we are not in the habit of being liberal in the idea and the liberal defenders...

As soon as it is seen that the transformation of the economic conditions, of the conditions of life, is the fundamental fact...

Today, if the existence of distinct classes has apparently, to a great extent, disappeared, it is just as real as ever...
